TERRAPIN SOFTBALL

COMPLEX

It's hard to believe the Terrapin Softball Complex (TSC) is entering its fourth full season as the home of the Terps. The $3.0 million structure is a state-of-the-art athletic facility that ranks among the premier softball facilities in the country.

FACILITY AMENITIES

- Stadium seating for more than 1,000 fans
- Underground dugouts with restrooms
- Two bullpen areas
- Four batting cages
- Light towers
- Concessions area
- Ticket booth
- Enclosed Press box
- Natural Bermuda grass outfield
- Electronic scoreboard
- Ample parking

The TSC sits adjacent to the Comcast Center on the north side of campus, where basketball, wrestling, volleyball and gymnastics competitions take place. Student-athletes have access to locker room and weight training facilities, athletic department offices and the academic support and career development center.

Remarkably, Opening Day of the TSC featured a Maryland no-hitter in its game on April 10, 2002 against local rival Towson. Amanda Bettker, who owns Maryland's second-best career ERA (1.61), fanned seven batters en route to her first complete game no-hitter and a 7-0 win for the Terps.

Since the inaugural game on April of 2002, the Terrapins have compiled a 42-14 record at home at the TSC.

SEASON OUTLOOK

COACH WATTEN BEGINS RUN AT HELM OF TERRAPIN PROGRAM

The University of Maryland softball program enters its 12th year invigorated with a new coaching staff and a strong caliber team. After finishing the 2005 season 28-21 and a fourth-place finish at the ACC tournament, new head coach Laura Watten is moving purposefully with the 2006 team.

Last season was highlighted by dramatic victories over ranked teams and traditional powerhouses. This season, the Terrapins hope to build on that momentum and improve even more steadily and become one of the top teams in the ACC.

PITCHING

This season's combined rotation of Crystal Crews, Elyse Lucas, Abbey Welch and Meredith Nelles will undoubtedly be a force in the ACC. The rotation balances tried and true winners with some promising new faces.

"We have a lot of potency on the mound," said coach Watten. "We have strong, capable pitchers and depth. This season we plan to work the rotation to its fullest."

In ten starts, Lucas posted a 5-4 record and a team-best 1.34 ERA, helping the Terps to the second-best ERA in the ACC (1.70). Augmenting the pitching rotation is senior Crystal Crews, who pitched 103.1 innings in 2005, posted a 6-8 record and finished the season with a 1.64 ERA.

The deep pitching staff also includes junior Abbey Welch who had a team-high of three saves last year and fanned 55 batters. Welch is focused on the mound and will be a force in the coming season.

One of the most promising prospects in the pitcher's circle is freshman Meredith Nelles, hailing from Brandywine High School in Wilmington, Del. Nelles is a dual weapon for the Terrapins and may also see time as a utility player.

ABBEY WELCH

BEHIND THE PLATE

The Terrapins have a trio of talent at catcher led by senior Nikki Smith who started 43 games for Maryland last season. Smith had a .997 fielding percentage and hit third-best on the squad with a .276 batting average.

Senior Rachel Greyson played in 15 games last year and aided as catcher. She hit her first career triple, three RBI's and was 2-of-4 at the Red and Black Challenge against Oakland in March.

Offsetting the seniors is sophomore Medley McGuire who saw some action last season. McGuire hopes to increase her playing time in 2006 and will also serve as a utility player for the Terps.

"Nikki has proven to be a strong leader for the team on offense and defense," Watten commented. "She's got a lot of experience behind the plate and has a sharp watchful eye during game time."

NIKKI SMITH

INFIELDERS

Good things are expected from a number of Terrapins starting with Lindsay Klein at first base. Klein's 2005 contributions were some of the most valuable of her career. She had a .997 fielding percentage in 2005 and a .333 batting average with 12 doubles for the season. Klein was the ACC Player of the Week and named to the ACC All-Tournament First Team.

Comparable to Klein's performance last year was second-base starter Keri Lounge. Lounge is a consistent power-hitter and tied Klein for most RBI's (32) in 2005. She was second on the team with four home runs and a .406 slugging percentage. Lounge started all 47 games last season and was third on the team with 37 hits and seven triples.

Whitney Reigel will serve as short stop for the Terrapins in 2006. Reigel has great range as a middle infielder and improved a lot in the fall workouts. She appeared in 33 games for the Terps last season. Jenny Belak, who posted impressive numbers in her first season, will also see some time in the infield for the Terrapins.

New at third base will be Lindsey Ubrun, a freshman from Riverside, Calif. Ubrun looked strong in the fall workouts and has great hands. She will be a big role player for the Terrapins on offense and defense.

Maryland has talented support in the infield with freshman Devon Williams serving as a viable replacement. Williams will look to gain some collegiate playing experience on the field this season.

"Our infielders are adept and we're working consistently to challenge them to handle multiple game situations," said Watten.

2006 MARYLAND SOFTBALL

OUTFIELD

Natalie Grossman, Jennifer Belak and Meghan Belak are three key walls of defense in the outfield. Senior Grossman can cover a lot of ground in center field and had a fielding percentage of .821 last year. She has a strong arm and was one of seven Terrapins to have a home run in 2005.

Belak's versatility, quick hands and quick feet have her in left field and as a back-up in the infield. She started in all 47 games for the Terps last season, had seven stolen bases and had the fourth highest RBI for the team (12).

Meghan Booth, in right field, continues to improve and showed a lot of promise in the fall workouts. She played in 32 games for Maryland last season.

Reserves Abbey Welch, Amanda D'Attilio, Kara Kahler and Erica Strudler offer talented support.

"As we get into the 2006 season, each of these outfielders is a significant player for us," said Watten. "We'll rely on them throughout the year to increase their playing time and hone their strengths."

THE SCHEDULE

The 2005 schedule promises to be one of the most challenging in recent years with the Terrapins facing three top ten teams including the NCAA champion Michigan, and ranked Arizona and Stanford in invitational tournaments. Maryland will play traditional foes Virginia, North Carolina and Georgia Tech with the bulk of the home games in April.

A total of seven new non-conference opponents are on the schedule this season including Louisville, Texas Tech, Cal Poly, Western Michigan, Cal State Fullerton and Norfolk State. The Terrapins will be playing teams from 16 different conferences.

"This schedule will increase our playing experience and exposure to top-ranked teams," said Watten. "It's important for us to strive to continually improve our level of play and make ourselves a versatile team."

Maryland opens the year at the Georgia Southern tournament in Statesboro, Ga. on February 17th when it plays Louisville, Charleston Southern, Troy and Georgia Southern.

Next for the Terrapins is the Palm Springs Invitational, one of the pinnacle softball tournaments in the country. Maryland will play Texas Tech, Cal Poly and Fullerton capped off by contests against 2005 Pac-10 co-champs Arizona and Stanford.

Florida State hosts the third pre-season tournament for the Terps featuring the NCAA champion team Michigan, as well as Western Michigan and FSU. The Terps played Michigan in 2004 and had a key victory against FSU last year.

Maryland returns to the East Coast with its final invitational, the Mason-Dixon Classic in Virginia Beach, to play George Mason, James Madison, Norfolk State and Cornell. The Terps did not play George Mason and James Madison last season and are facing Norfolk State and Cornell for the first time in the program's history.

The Terrapins' first regular season game is a doubleheader against James Madison in Harrisonburg, Va. The Terps did not play the Dukes last season after facing them twice in 2003 and 2004.

Atlantic Coast Conference play begins for the Terps with a three-game series against Georgia Tech on March 18th in Atlanta. The 2005 ACC champion Yellow Jackets posted a league-best 51-14 record last year, but lost star pitcher Jessica Sallinger to graduation. The Terps will look to build on their win last year over Georgia Tech which snapped a 12-game losing streak against the Yellow Jackets and evened the overall series, 16-16.

Maryland's first home matchup in the Terrapin Softball Complex is a doubleheader against Morgan State on March 22. The Terps hope to continue their streak of 11 consecutive home opener victories in College Park.

The Terps then travel to face the Tar Heels of North Carolina in a three-game series in Raleigh then return to Comcast for doubleheaders against Brown and Mount St. Mary's. Raleigh, N.C. beckons again with the Terps competing against North Carolina State for a three-game series.

The ACC schedule is in full swing in April when the longest stretch of home games is scheduled in the Terrapin Softball Complex. First, on April 5, the Terps play a doubleheader against Delaware State, followed by games against traditional foes Virginia Tech, George Mason and Virginia. The Terrapins play local rival George Washington on April 19 then go north for their final road trip of the season.

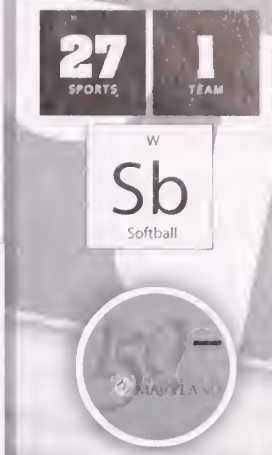
The Boston College Eagles host the Terps in a three-game series starting on April 22. After these contests, the Terps travel to Baltimore to face Towson and Delaware at the University of Delaware in doubleheaders.

The final home series is against the Seminoles of Florida State beginning on Saturday, May 6.

This year, the ACC Tournament will be held at the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill from May 10-15.

ANALYSIS

Maryland's softball program has proven to have talent and dedication. A new coaching staff often signifies a renaissance, yet there is much to build upon with the current program. Some key veterans returning will help guide the new faces and embark on one of the most exciting eras for the Terrapins.



HEAD COACH LAURA WATTEN

FIRST SEASON AT MARYLAND • NINTH OVERALL
TEXAS-ARLINGTON '92

The Terrapins welcomed a new era and a new coach in July of 2005 with the hiring of Laura Watten, former head coach at Bethune-Cookman College, four-time MEAC Coach of the Year and the 2005 National Fastpitch Coaches Association (NFCA) Southeast Region Coach of the Year.

Watten brings eight years of experience as a Division I head coach to the Terrapin program. As head coach at Bethune-Cookman, Watten led the Wildcats to the 2005 NCAA Division I Super Regional. The Wildcats ended 2005 with a final No. 18 ranking by the NFCA/USA Today on her way to earning NCAA Southeast Region Coach of the Year honors.

"Taking over an established team brings a lot of opportunities," said Watten. "We have a lot of talent and they are a committed group of players. This Terrapin team worked extremely hard in the offseason and they've risen to the challenges we've presented them. I've been impressed with their work ethic and excitement – it gives us the opportunity to really develop the team's strengths. They have absorbed, with open eyes, every aspect of our coaching style and I feel they're ready for the level of competition they're going to be facing this season."

Bethune-Cookman earned an at-large bid to the NCAA Regionals in 2005 and went on to emerge unbeaten as the champion of the Gainesville, Fla., regional over host Florida, South Florida and Central Florida. In the Super Regional at Austin, Tex., the Wildcats faced Olympic Gold Medal pitcher Cat Osterman and fell to the University of Texas in extra innings.

"Laura Watten is a proven winner who is committed to success on and off the field of play," said Associate Athletic Director Dave Haglund. "She impressed everyone with her passion, vision and `can-do' attitude. We're delighted to have her join the Terrapin family and assume the leadership reins of the Maryland softball program."

During Watten's eight years as head coach, the Wildcats made five NCAA Regional appearances and captured five conference titles. Her career record of 322-207 equates to a winning percentage of better than 61 percent, and she has an average of over 40 wins per season during her career.

Watten led Bethune-Cookman to five-straight 40-win seasons, including a 49-win total in 2005 including victories over Florida (twice), Northwestern, Central Florida, South Florida, Virginia Tech, Florida Atlantic and UMass, all of which advanced to the 2005 NCAA Tournament. In total, the Wildcats were 21-17 vs. teams that finished in the top 100 of the NCAA's RPI (Rating Percentage Index) last season. Statistically in 2005, the Wildcats ranked fourth in the nation in stolen bases per game, 10th in batting average and team ERA, 12th in double plays turned and 25th in scoring.

Off the field, Watten's teams have posted a team GPA of 3.2 or better every single year and have had a 100 percent graduation rate. Watten's players have been cited as NFCA Academic All-Americans 27 times.

Watten is a 1992 graduate of the University of Texas-Arlington where she played catcher and first base and helped her team to a conference title in 1989 and top 25 rankings in two seasons. She was a three-time all-conference selection for the Mavericks and went on to an assistant coach position at the school.

Watten is currently enrolled in graduate school and will earn her Master's Degree in Kinesiology from Texas Women's University in Denton, Tex. in August of 2006.

A member of the National Fastpitch Coaches Association (NFCA), Watten has served on the NCAA South Region ranking committee and the NFCA's Top 25 voting panel. She also has been an active member of the Diversity Committee within the NFCA.

Watten currently resides in Annapolis and is a native of Dallas, Tex.. Her parents, Nancy and Paul, are their daughter's biggest fans and are sure to be prominent figures in the Terps' stands.

COACHING STAFF

ALISSA SMITH

ASSISTANT COACH
FIRST SEASON AT MARYLAND/
SEVENTH SEASON OVERALL

When new Maryland head coach Laura Watten decided to join the Terrapins in July 2005, she knew that pivotal to her strategy in building the team was having her assistant at Bethune-Cookman, Alissa Smith, join her as well.

At Maryland, Smith is responsible for working with both infielders and outfielders, recruiting, and assisting Coach Watten in all coaching aspects.

"Alissa is a tremendous asset," said Watten. "She is extremely committed to the players on and off the field. She is tireless when it comes to practice, scouting, recruiting, and doing anything else it takes to succeed as a program."

Prior to joining the Terps in September 2005, Smith spent six years as an assistant softball coach at Bethune-Cookman College under Watten in Daytona Beach, Fla. At Bethune-Cookman, Smith helped lead the Lady Wildcats to five straight Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference (MEAC) Championships in 1999-2004 with corresponding NCAA regional appearances. In 2005, the team also won the Florida Regional Championship, appeared in the NCAA Super Regional at the University of Texas, and finished No. 18 in the ESPN/USA Today Top 25 poll. The National Fastpitches Coaches Association (NFCA) awarded Bethune-Cookman the South Region Coaching Staff of the Year in 2005.

Smith's collegiate career began at Daytona Beach Community College where she received the defensive player of the year award her first year. As a sophomore, Smith won the Gold Glove award and helped the Rattlers win their first Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference softball championship. Subsequently, she transferred to Florida A&M University where she played second base and shortstop and was instrumental in the team's first victory in the MEAC Championship.

Smith worked as a Pharmacy Technician in Orlando for two years before joining Bethune-Cookman and received her degree from Phoenix College in 2005.

An Oak Hill, Fla. native, Smith now resides in Annapolis.

MEGHAN CORNETT

ASSISTANT COACH
FIRST SEASON AT MARYLAND

Meghan Cornett joins the Maryland Terrapins after serving as a volunteer assistant coach with the University of South Carolina Gamecocks. She was also a pitching and hitting instructor in camps for South Carolina and Florida State as well as a coach on the noted Higher Ground clinics.

Her primary responsibilities with the Terrapins will be as a pitching and hitting instructor while also focusing on administrative duties for the team.

"We're very excited to have someone with such high-caliber playing experience and a keen coaching sense," said head coach Laura Watten. "Meghan has a great knowledge base to help us build a strong team. She's a great complement to our staff and will help in all facets of the game."

Cornett has an impressive playing background. After a shoulder injury forced her to move from pitcher to first base at South Carolina, Cornett became the Gamecocks' all-time leader in single-season fielding percentage with a .996 in her senior year and a .992 career average. She started and played in every game of her four year career (236). Cornett led the Gamecocks her final year with a .363 batting average and a .515 slugging percentage, finishing her career with a .317 batting average.

Cornett ranks third on the Gamecocks' all-time career home run list (18), sixth in doubles (40), and seventh in RBI (109). The Cocoa, Fla. native is the only South Carolina player to earn the SEC Player of the Week distinction more than once in her career.

She was named to the All-SEC Second Team (2005), FSU All-Tournament Team (2005), and SEC Player of the Week (2002, 2005). Cornett also made the All SEC Academic Honor Roll (2004, 2005) and the SEC Good Works Team (2004, 2005). In addition, she secured the All-Regional Tournament Team (2002).

Cornett will receive her degree from South Carolina in 2006 and currently resides in Laurel.

ACC SOFTBALL

HISTORY OF THE ACC

The Atlantic Coast Conference was founded on May 8, 1953, at the Sedgefield Inn near Greensboro, N.C., with seven charter members - Clemson, Duke, Maryland, North Carolina, North Carolina State, South Carolina and Wake Forest - drawing up the conference bylaws.

The withdrawal of seven schools from the Southern Conference came early on the morning of May 8, 1953, during the Southern Conference's annual spring meeting. On June 14, 1953, the seven members met in Raleight, N.C., where a set of bylaws was adopted and the name officially became the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Suggestions from fans for the name of the new conference appeared in the region's newspapers prior to the meeting in Raleigh. Some of the names suggested were: Dixie, Mid South, Mid Atlantic, East Coast, Seaboard, Colonial, Tobacco, Blue-Gray, Piedmont, Southern Seven and the Shoreline.

Duke's Eddie Cameron recommended that the name of the conference be the Atlantic Coast Conference, and the motion was passed unanimously. The meeting concluded with each member institution assessed $200 to pay for conference expenses.

On December 4, 1953, conference officials met again at Sedgefield and officially admitted the University of Virginia as the league's eighth member. The first, and only, withdrawal of a school from the ACC came on June 30, 1971, when the University of South Carolina tendered its resignation.

The ACC operated with seven members until April 3, 1978, when the Georgia Institute of Technology was admitted. The Atlanta school had withdrawn from the Southeastern Conference in January of 1964.

The ACC expanded to nine members on July 1, 1991, with the addition of Florida State University.

On June 30, 2003, conference membership increased to 11 with the announcement that the University of Miami and Virginia Tech had accepted invitations to join the league beginning in the 2004-05 year. Boston College was officially welcomed to the league on Oct. 17, 2003 and entered for the 2005-06 year.

Kiesha Pickeral set the single-season hits record of 1999, helping lead th Terps to within one game of the College World Series.

"STRIVE FOR CLARITY, BUT ACCEPT AND UNDERSTAND AMBIGUITY."

That phrase captures one way in which an educated person approaches the world and its challenges. Students who graduate from the University of Maryland have been exposed to the tools that allow them to put that perspective to work. Imparting such a perspective may be an ambitious project for undergraduate education, but to aim for anything less would be unworthy of a great university's goals for its students. Thirteen years ago, Promises to Keep, a plan for undergraduate education at Maryland, articulated those goals so eloquently we repeat them here.

Undergraduate education at Maryland "aims to provide students with a sense of identity and purpose, a concern for others, a sense of responsibility for the quality of life around them, a continuing eagerness for knowledge and understanding, and a foundation for a lifetime of personal enrichment."

As we learn with and from one another, we try to "develop human values," "celebrate tolerance and fairness," "contribute to the social conscience," "monitor and assess private and collective assumptions," and "recognize the glory, tragedy and humor of the human condition." Your years at the University of Maryland can provide you with all the tools you need to accomplish these goals. Students here are "educated to be able to read with perception and pleasure, write and speak with clarity and verve, handle numbers and computation proficiently, reason mathematically, generate clear questions and find probable arguments, reach substantiated conclusions and accept ambiguity."

AND WE ALSO HOPE YOU ENJOY THE JOURNEY.

THE UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

THE CAMPUS

By virtually every measure of quality, the University of Maryland has gained national recognition as one of the fastest-rising comprehensive research institutions in the country. The momentum of recent years has poised the university to move it into the top ranks of higher education and take leadership in shaping the research university of the 21st century.

The university has enjoyed a decade of momentum in all of the areas that affect quality. The average high school GPA of entering students has zoomed from 3.01 to nearly 3.90, and the average SATs are now more than 1270. The student body is a model of diversity, with minorities making up more than 32 percent of all students, and at least one graduate and undergraduate student from every state in the nation.

The university has 79 graduate and undergraduate programs ranked in the Top 25 by U.S. News and World Report, up from just one program in 1991.

Sponsored research and outreach has nearly tripled in the same 10-year period, exceeding $350 million last year. Private giving also has increased, and the university last year concluded its first campaign by topping its $350 million goal by more than $100 million. Alumni Association membership has been growing at an average rate of 10 percent a year since 1992.

One of the largest research universities in the United States, Fall 2004 enrollment was 25,140 undergraduate and 9,793 graduate students. There are 94 undergraduate programs, 89 master's programs, 70 doctoral programs and one first professional degree program. More than 100 centers and institutes are engaged in research and outreach.

Faculty at the University of Maryland, in all fields of knowledge, are engaged at the highest levels of national and international concern. The university's location near the center of federal policy-making and international political and economic activity enables it to play an active role in research and analysis of public policy.

Maryland is one of 30 public universities in the prestigious 63-member Association of American Universities and the only public institution in the Maryland-D.C. area with membership in the nation's most distinguished honor society, Phi Beta Kappa.

DID YOU KNOW?

In 1991, Maryland had one program listed among Top 25 entrants in the U.S. News & World Report Rankings. Maryland now has 79 programs ranked among the nation's elite, and the university is ranked 18th nationally among public universities.

A report card published in Technology Review rated the top U.S. universities in their quest for intellectual property, commercial partners and profits. Johns Hopkins University and the University of Maryland (28th) were the Mid-Atlantic (Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, District of Columbia) schools to make the "campus patenting" top 50 list.

Black Issues In Higher Education ranked the university fourth nationally in bachelor's degrees earned by African-American students at traditionally white schools. Maryland ranks first in African-American undergraduate degrees in social sciences and history.

The Wall Street Journal ranked the Robert H. Smith School of Business No. 16 among the world's business schools. Maryland is the top-ranked school in the Mid-Atlantic region (Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia). The Financial Times of London ranked the Robert H. Smith School of Business No. 8 in information technology, No. 6 in faculty research and No. 7 in entrepreneurship.

In the undergraduate program rankings released by U.S. News & World Report both the A. James Clark School of Engineering (No. 17) and the College of Education (No. 22) were ranked among the top 25.

DR. C.D. MOTE

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT
CALIFORNIA '59
EIGHTH YEAR

In September 1998, C. D. (Dan) Mote, Jr. began his tenure as President of the University of Maryland and Glenn L. Martin Institute Professor of Engineering. He was recruited to lead the University of Maryland to national eminence under a mandate by the state. Since assuming the presidency, he has encouraged an environment of excellence across the University and given new impetus to the momentum generated by a talented faculty and student body. Under his leadership, academic programs have flourished. In 2005, the University was ranked 18th among public research universities, up from 30th in 1998. President Mote has emphasized broad access to the university's model, enriched undergraduate curriculum programs and launched the Baltimore Incentive Awards Program to recruit and provide full support to high school students of outstanding potential who have overcome extraordinary adversity during their lives.

He has spurred the university to lead the state in the development of its high-tech economy, especially in the information and communication, bioscience and biotechnology, and nano-technology sectors. President Mote has greatly expanded the university's partnerships with corporate and federal laboratories and successfully negotiated to bring to the College Park area the first Science Research Park sponsored by the People's Republic of China. Under his leadership, the University has established a research park, The University of Maryland Enterprise Campus, M-Square, located on a 115-acre site adjacent to the University of Maryland/College Park Metro with 3 million square feet of development potential. Among its first tenants are the Center for Advanced Study of Language, a joint venture of the University and Department of Defense, and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's new World Weather and Climate Prediction Center.

During President Mote's second year in office, the University began the largest building boom in its history, with more than $100 million in new projects breaking ground that year. New facilities address every aspect of university life, from the arts to recreation to classrooms and laboratories, and, in creative partnership with the private sector, new residential facilities. Highlights of the construction activity include the stunning Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center; the Comcast Center, a state-of-the-art sports complex; a high-tech research greenhouse; and new classrooms for chemistry, computer science, business and engineering. President Mote also led the development of a new Facilities Master Plan for development in the next 20 years, which is noted for its emphasis on environmental stewardship.

Dr. Mote is a leader in the national dialogue on higher education and his analyses of shifting funding models have been featured in local and national media. He has testified on major educational issues before Congress, representing the University and higher education associations on the problem of visa barriers for international students and scholars and on deemed export control issues. He has been asked to serve on a high level National Academies Committee appointed at the request of the Senate Energy Subcommittee of the Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee to identify challenges to United States leadership in key areas of science and technology and to be a member of the Leadership Council of the National Innovation Initiative, an activity of the Council on Competitiveness. He has served as vice chair of the Department of Defense Basic Research Committee, and is a member of the Council of the National Academy of Engineering. In 2004-2005, he served as President of the Atlantic Coast Conference. In its last ranking in 2002, "Washington Business Forward" magazine counted him among the top 20 most influential leaders in the region.

He and his wife of over 40 years, Patricia Mote, have two married children, Melissa and Adam, and four grandchildren. Patsy Mote has continued her strong support of the arts and is spokesperson for the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center and a member of Prince George's County Arts Commission.

DEBORAH A. YOW

ATHLETICS DIRECTOR • 12TH YEAR AT MARYLAND

Deborah A. Yow is in the 12th year of her outstanding tenure as director of athletics at the University of Maryland, a tenure that has seen unprecedented success and achievement in Maryland athletics. Each year has brought continued improvement and accomplishment in Terrapin athletics. In Yow's 12 years at Maryland, the Terrapins have won a remarkable 11 NCAA national championships and graduated its student-athletes at an enviable rate, as Maryland athletics has soared to sustained new heights.

The comprehensive success of Terrapin athletics under Debbie Yow's leadership is a clear and compelling testimony of her values of excellence, teamwork and accountability.

Likewise, her prior election to the presidency of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics is an indication of the wide respect with which she is regarded among its 6,100 members representing 1,600 colleges and universities in the U.S. and Canada.

She was honored in December, 2004, by Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal as one of the 20 most influential people in intercollegiate athletics, and she has received the Carl Maddox Sport Management Award presented by the United States Sports Academy for excellence in athletics administration.

Yow was selected to serve on the U.S. Department of Education's Commission on Opportunities in Athletics to review the status of Federal Title IX regulations. She recently served as the chair of the Atlantic Coast Conference Committee on Television. The committee is charged with overseeing the league's TV contracts and dealing with issues related to television. Yow led the committee during the successful renegotiation of comprehensive, multi-year ACC football and basketball contracts with ABC, ESPN, ESPN2 and syndication entities.

Additionally, she has represented intercollegiate athletics with presentations in a number of prominent settings such as the Harvard University School of Law conference on "Shaping the Future of Collegiate Athletics" and the Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal "National Forum on the Direction of Intercollegiate Athletics." She was also recently inducted into the State of Maryland Women's Ha of Fame.

Yow, who has served on the NCAA Managemer Council and the NCAA Division I Budget Committee, i a strong and steady voice on behalf of intercollegiat athletics in America.

Since taking over as AD at Maryland in 1994, sh and her staff have:

- Transformed Terrapin athletics into a responsive goal-oriented organization.
- Balanced all 11 of the department's annua budgets (the first balanced budgets in the 1(years prior to her arrival). The budget has nov reached $50 million annually and the multi-millior dollar accumulated operating debt which he administration inherited has been eradicated.
- Greatly enhanced the academic suppor services provided for student-athletes, with ar enviable exhausted eligibility graduation rate o approximately 85 percent for student athletes a Maryland.
- Led the Terrapins to a national all-sports rankinc in the upper 7 percent of all NCAA Division institutions.
- Significantly expanded marketing and fund-raisinc efforts on behalf of Terrapin athletics. As a result private gifts to athletics have increased over 35(percent and corporate sponsorship revenues have increased by over 300 percent during her tenure a Maryland.

IN DECEMBER OF 2004, DEBORAH A. YOW WAS NAMED ONE OF THE MOST INFLUENTIAL PEOPLE IN COLLEGE ATHLETICS BY STREET & SMITH'S SPORTS BUSINESS JOURNAL.

- Continued to dramatically improve venues and facilities for the department's 27 teams. The Comcast Center for men's and women's basketball and other sports that use the facility is a prime example of the dramatic upgrade of athletic facilities.
- Implemented a strategic management model.
- Developed a comprehensive Internet strategy with management, marketing and fund-raising applications.
- Significantly improved customer care in every area of Maryland athletics.

The most recent achievements of Maryland athletics are exceptional:

- Maryland was selected by U.S. News & World Report as one of the Top 20 athletic programs in the nation (for overall quality and competitive excellence).
- In men's basketball, the Terps won the Atlantic Coast Conference title over Duke in the championship game in 2004 and won the NCAA National Championship in 2002. Under Coach Gary Williams, the men's basketball team has appeared in 11 of the last 12 NCAA Tournaments, one of only six schools to do so.
- Women's basketball also won its way to the NCAA Tournament in 2004 and 2005, advancing to the second round.
- In football, the Terps won the 2001 Atlantic Coast Conference championship and played in the 2002 Orange Bowl, followed that with an 11-win season and a 30-3 victory over the University of Tennessee in the Peach Bowl, again followed by a 10-win season and a 41-7 win over West Virginia in the Gator Bowl on New Year's Day 2004.
  Additionally, Maryland is one of only six universities to win a National Championship in both basketball and football (UCLA, Michigan, Michigan State, Syracuse, Ohio State and Maryland).
- Maryland was ranked as the sixth-finest athletic program in the nation by the Laboratory for the Study of Intercollegiate Athletics in 2004, based on comprehensive criteria such as graduation rates, financial efficiency, equity effectiveness and competitive excellence.
- Hired the Associated Press National Coach of the Year, Brenda Frese, as the new women's basketball coach. In her third season at the helm, her team drew more than 17,243 to a regular-season game and advanced to the NCAA Tournament.
- Hired Dave Cottle, the third-winningest active men's lacrosse coach in the U.S., who guided his team to the NCAA Final Four in his second year.
- Men's Soccer won the NCAA national championship in 2005 and has made four consecutive appearances in the NCAA College Cup.
- Field Hockey won the NCAA national championship in 2005 and continues to be a perennial Final Four team.

Debbie Yow is in her 12th year as Maryland's athletics director.

- Women's Lacrosse has continued its winning ways with seven national championships from 1995-2001, with additional Final Four appearances.
- Football facilities have been significantly enhanced with team house, stadium and practice field upgrades. The Academic Center was the first improvement, as it took priority over all other initiatives.
- The Terrapins have moved into the new $125 million Comcast Center, housing athletic department offices and seating for 18,000 fans for basketball and other events.
- In 2004-05, 18 Maryland teams competed in NCAA postseason play.
- The productivity, morale, and the competitive and academic achievement of Terrapin athletics are exceptional and continue to gain momentum.

Regarding the many achievements of Terrapin athletics over the past 11 years, Yow says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied... our vision is to be one of the Top 5 programs in the nation consistently... we see no reason to settle for less."

Yow is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistently inspires and challenges those around her to "raise our sights and sharpen our tools... to work hard and smart... to recognize that our only limitations are those that we place upon ourselves."

As a manager and a leader, she clearly models these principles. She is the only known current AD in NCAA Division I who has hired both the National Coach of the Year in football (while at Maryland) and the National Coach of the Year in men's basketball (while at Saint Louis University). Yow is known as "a coach's AD," while also being highly organized and a strategic and proactive leader and administrator. Quite simply, Debbie Yow personifies the relational and management dynamics that are necessary to be an excellent administrator.

A successful former basketball coach at the University of Kentucky and University of Florida, she moved into athletics administration at the University of Florida and the University of North Carolina, Greensboro, followed by a successful tenure as AD at Saint Louis University from 1990 through 1994.

She has authored numerous articles and books on athletics management and human behavior, and is a respected leader in intercollegiate athletics in the United States.

Summing up the entire Maryland athletics program, our athletics director recently stated, "We have the finest student-athletes, coaches, support staff and administrative team in America. It is because of their courage, hard work and cooperative spirit that we now have a strong, viable athletic program. I am immensely proud of each of them. I am equally proud of our Terrapin fans who buy tickets, our Terrapin Club members who faithfully support the Maryland athletic program with their donations for scholarships, and the M Club members who serve and give liberally. We are also blessed with a terrific President, Dr. Dan Mote, who has fostered a mindset of excellence across our institution. He is a strong and balanced advocate for what he calls 'the three A's of the University -- Academics, the Arts and Athletics'. We have a great Terrapin family. That's the foundation for all of our success... and the basis for our bright future. It's a great time to be a Terp."

ACADEMIC SUPPORT AND CAREER DEVELOPMENT

The University of Maryland is committed to providing the highest quality education to all of its students. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to provide student-athletes excellent opportunities to participate in an intercollegiate athletics program of the highest quality, with the result that their athletics participation becomes an integral and valued component of their total educational experience at the university.

Terrapin student-athletes will find that the same hard work and discipline that has earned them success in athletics competition is also required in the classroom. Balancing the significant time demands and responsibilities required to be a successful student-athlete at the highest collegiate level is no small task. Therefore, as a result of their commitment to representing the university through athletics, Terrapin student-athletes are able to utilize support programs designed to meet their specific needs.

Led by assistant athletics director Anton Goff, the mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit (ASCDU) is to provide quality developmental programs and need-based services that will enhance academic progress, facilitate career development, and encourage the psychosocial growth of all UM student-athletes. Laura Meckley (right) works with the softball team.

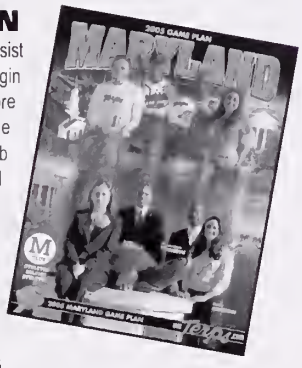
The Gossett Academic Support and Career Development Center for Terrapin student-athletes, named for long-time Terp supporters Barry and Mary Gossett, is located in the Comcast Center. It features a study center that includes 25 desktop computers, a tutoring center, a classroom, a CHAMPS/Life Skills resource room and individual offices for six professional academic counselors, a director of LP programs, an assistant program coordinator and two graduate assistants. In addition, a new academic wing was added to the Gossett football team house last Fall. It features offices for two counselors, three learning specialist, and a graduate assistant; as well as a quiet study area, 29-desk computer lab, classroom, tutor rooms and classroom/lab for the individualized learning program.

Academic courses, programs and services offered by ASCDU include the following:

- Student-athlete orientation
- Academic counseling
- NCAA academic eligibility monitoring
- Academic enrichment and career development presentations and workshops
- Accredited tutorial support
- Individualized learning program
- EDCP 108-K (College learning strategies and skills)
- EDCP 108-M (Math learning strategies and skills)
- UNIV 100 (First-year transitions to the university)

MARYLAND GAMEPLAN

The Maryland Gameplan is intended to assist graduating Terrapin student-athletes as they begin the job search process. It is distributed to more than 500 corporations and businesses across the country, in addition to being featured on the M Club website. Prospective employers are introduced to our graduating student-athletes with resume information relative to academic, career and personal achievements. The Maryland Gameplan directory is produced annually in collaboration with the M Club.



CAREER NETWORKING NIGHT

Because career development is an ongoing process, ASCDU provides a variety of programs for student-athletes throughout the year. Professional assistance with resume-writing, interviewing skills, graduate school search and job search is readily available to all student-athletes. During the spring semester ASCDU hosts the Career Networking Night, where student-athletes can learn about career interests and career planning. Unlike typical "job fairs," the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen areas of interest. Employers at the Career Networking Night recognize the marketable qualities student-athletes have gained through athletic participation. Student-athletes learn about opportunities for internships and full-time jobs.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ADVISORY COUNCIL

The Student-Athlete Advisory Council (S.A.A.C.) plays an important role in the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics. It consists of two representatives from each varsity sport and meets on a regular basis with representatives from the athletic administration. The S.A.A.C. mission is to enhance the total student-athlete experience by developing leadership skills, promoting student-athlete welfare and fostering a positive student-athlete image on the Maryland campus, local area and nationally.

CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS

ASCDU houses the NCAA's (National Collegiate Athletic Association) Challenging Athletes' Minds for Personal Success (C.H.A.M.P.S.) Life Skills Program. The ASCDU staff, in collaboration with various other Department of Intercollegiate Athletics' units and campus resources, strives to provide a systematic personal development program designed to reach each student-athlete based on his or her individual needs. The focus of the program is on the individual academically, athletically and emotionally, and on the changing needs and skills of that individual in the years during college and after graduation. The menu of presentations, workshops and seminars is a comprehensive and balanced system of "life learning" programs promoted for use by each varsity sport team.

NCAA CHAMPS/Life Skills PROGRAM

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS:

- Support efforts of every student-athlete toward intellectual development and graduation
- Use athletics as preparation for success in life
- Meet the changing needs of student-athletes
- Promote respect for diversity among student-athletes
- Enhance interpersonal relationships in the lives of student-athletes
- Assist student-athletes in building positive self-esteem
- Enable student-athletes to make meaningful contributions to their communities
- Promote ownership by the student-athletes of their academic, athletic, personal and social responsibilities
- Enhance partnerships between the NCAA, member institutions and their communities for the purpose of education
- Encourage the development of leadership skills

CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS COMMITMENT STATEMENTS

ACADEMIC SUPPORT FOR RETURNING ATHLETES PROGRAM

The Academic Support for Returning Athletes Program was created in 1986 to support the academic efforts of former varsity student-athletes at the University of Maryland, College Park. In 1989, ASRAP was assigned by the President's Office to the Academic Achievements Program and enrolled 40 students that year. As a member of the National Consortium for Academics and Sports (NCAS), the University of Maryland is committed to assisting its former athletes with degree completion. A key component of the program is community outreach. Each returning student completes a "workship" that allows the cost of tuition and fees to be exchanged for community services with youth. In 2002, ASRAP moved into the ASCDU.
